

Author Coaching Agreement

I, the Client, certify I am working with Joy DeKok for professional author coaching and will pay the agreed upon fees. I also understand and agree to the Policies and Procedures of Getting It Write Coaching. I am responsible for the decisions I make while participating in this Client/Coach relationship.

Getting It Write Coaching does not guarantee my outcome. The Coach does not promise that any guidance, encouragement, opinions, suggestions, advice, ideas, etc will help the Client obtain a publishing contract and/or result in the sale of the Client's manuscript or any rights associated with it. All discussions will be kept confidential unless the coach is concerned about the safety or well-being of the client.

I understand professional coaching is different from counseling, psychotherapy, and psychoanalysis. Coaching does not involve medical consultation, diagnosis, or treatment. Healthcare insurance will not apply to coaching fees.

I agree to that I will pre-pay for four one hour sessions of coaching in advance. The agreed upon price is: $ (to be filled in when client decides on a package).
